Save the World!

A Rescued Globe Makes an Illuminating Shade by Paul Schifino

With geography all but nixed from the grade-school curriculum, those spinning blue spheres are getting the boot from classrooms everywhere. Do your part for the planet and snatch one up at a swap meet or antique shop. A single globe makes two shades: Hang both for a United Nations look, or give old table lamps a cosmopolitan flare. Either way, these handsome hemispheres both amuse and instruct.
